

What is HardWare-In-the-Loop Testing (HWIL)?

HardWare-In-the-Loop (HWIL) Testing is used in the development and /or production of missiles and smart munitions. The control loop of the simulation comprises a missile and the flight motion simulator moving the missile as well a target combined with a target motion system.

